Indulge in an extraordinary evening with an exclusive, private dinner at the renowned Galleria Romanelli, where you'll have the rare privilege of meeting Raffaello Romanelli himself, master sculptor and guardian of this historic family legacy.

Galleria Romanelli is a Florence's famed sculpture studio, founded in the 19th century by the master sculptor Pasquale Romanelli. Nestled in a historic palazzo, the gallery has remained under the meticulous care of the Romanelli family for five generations. Today, the distinguished Raffaello Romanelli, a direct descendant and highly acclaimed sculptor, leads the atelier. For one unforgettable evening, he will personally welcome you, offering a rare glimpse into his family's legacy and providing insights into their time-honored techniques.

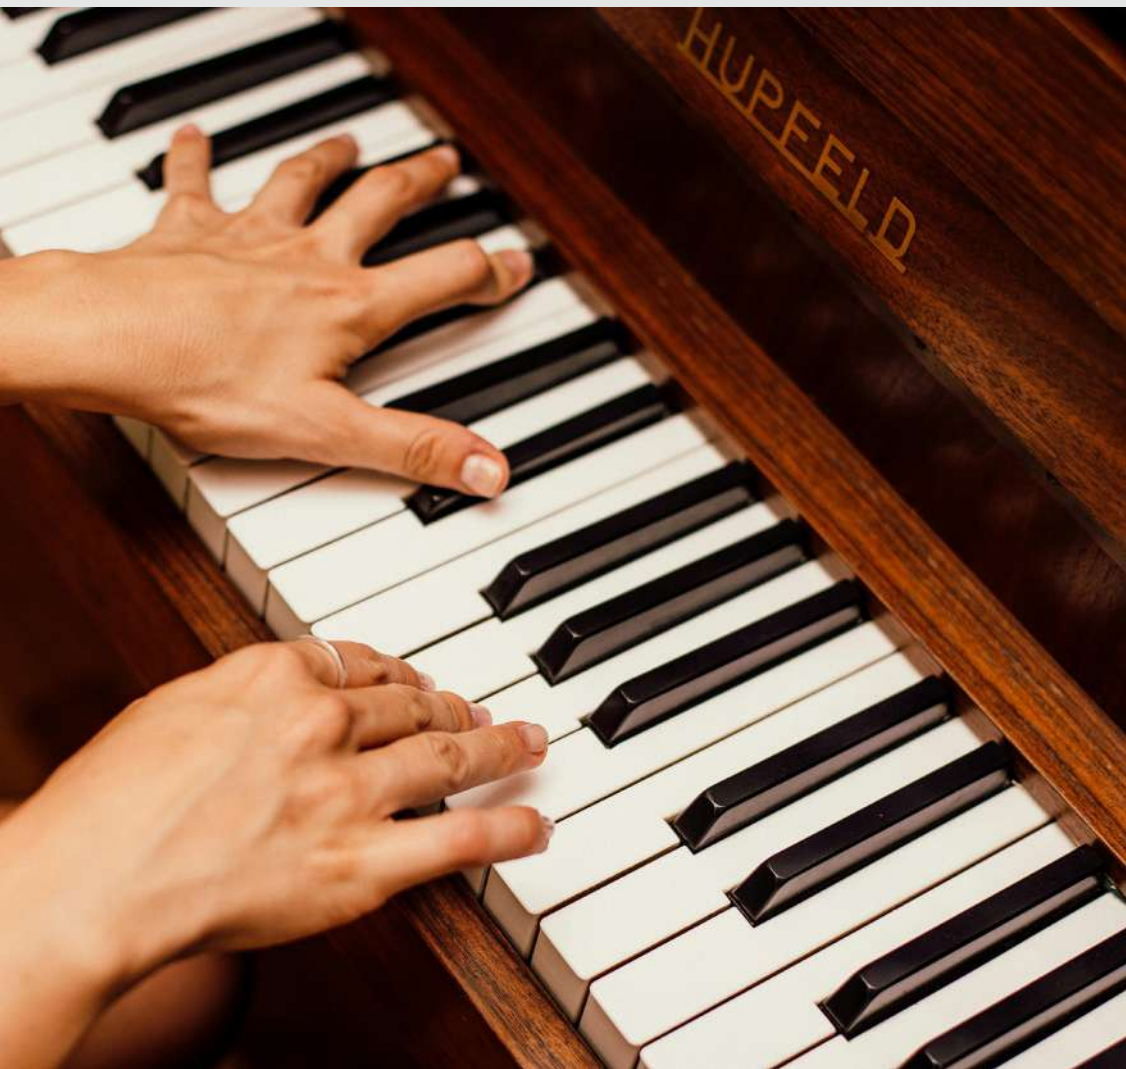

The gallery holds an impressive collection of sculptures spanning classical, Renaissance, neoclassical, and contemporary styles, alongside Raffaello's own original works. Romanelli's bronzes, crafted using the ancient "lost-wax" casting method, showcase intricate detail, while their hand-carved Carrara marble sculptures remain the epitome of Italian craftsmanship. As you tour the studio, Raffaello will share captivating stories of his ancestors and the evolving art of sculpture, blending old-world mastery with modern expression in each creation. This privileged access allows a direct connection to the artist, making it a unique, personal journey through Florence's artistic soul.

To conclude the evening, imagine dining surrounded by masterpieces, savoring exquisite Tuscan dishes crafted by Florence's finest caterer, all within a truly magical atmosphere. This is what this experience combines: the opportunity to delve into Florence's artistic legacy with the rare privilege of an intimate evening among timeless masterpieces, enriched by the personal insights of a world-renowned sculptor.
