

Salina: the green heart of the Aeolian islands

THREE DAYS OF VOLCANIC LANDSCAPES, ISLAND FLAVOURS AND THE GENTLE RHYTHMS OF THE AEOLIAN SEA.

Salina's Villages, Malvasia & Island Life

Sea-facing villages, volcanic vineyards and the traditions of Aeolian hospitality.

Begin with a guided exploration of Salina, where green slopes, small villages and sea-facing vineyards reveal a gentler side of the Aeolian Islands. With a dedicated driver and guide, discover Malfa and the landscape around Pollara, whose curved cliffs and open sea views formed the setting for scenes from Il Postino.

Continue to a local wine estate for a pre-booked visit and tasting, discovering the island's relationship with Malvasia and the traditions behind its production. The encounter offers a closer understanding of how growers work within this volcanic, maritime landscape.

Enjoy lunch featuring Aeolian specialities, with time to pause and take in the scenery before returning to your hotel. Dinner at a selected restaurant on Salina completes the day, bringing the island's produce and culinary character to the table.

Salina by Sea & Volcanic Horizons

Hidden coves, dramatic coastlines and the changing silhouettes of the archipelago.

Set out on a boat reserved for your party to discover Salina from the water. The coastline reveals rocky headlands, sheltered coves and the sculpted landscape of Pollara, offering perspectives that cannot be fully appreciated from the island's roads.

The skipper will select the route and any swimming stops according to sea conditions and local access requirements. Lunch may be arranged ashore where landing and restaurant reservations allow, leaving time to enjoy the day at an unhurried pace.

Alternatively, explore Panarea and its nearby islets on a private boat excursion, with the route and stops agreed in advance with the operator.

For a more dramatic encounter with the archipelago, choose an excursion towards Stromboli, whose active volcano rises above the sea. Where conditions and navigation restrictions permit, the itinerary may include time ashore and an evening passage to observe the Sciara del Fuoco from an authorised offshore position. This alternative involves a late return to Salina, with the route confirmed by the operator and no guarantee of visible volcanic activity.

Island Paths & Aeolian Flavours

Panoramic trails, local ingredients and the authentic taste of island life.

Discover Salina on foot with a dedicated guide, choosing between a gentle panoramic walk and a more demanding excursion towards Fossa delle Felci. Routes will be tailored to your interests, ability and seasonal conditions, revealing the island's vegetation and changing views across the archipelago.

Continue with a cooking class arranged with a local host or culinary team, exploring Aeolian recipes through ingredients such as capers, vegetables and aromatic herbs. Preparing and sharing lunch offers a personal encounter with the island's food traditions and hospitality.

Alternatively, a visit to a local caper producer may be requested, subject to availability and the agricultural season, followed by a regional lunch. Leave the afternoon free to enjoy your hotel or a pre-booked spa experience.

For guests drawn to history, a separately arranged excursion to Lipari may replace the day's programme, with a guided exploration of its citadel and archaeological museum before returning to Salina.
